

Introducing... a new edition of

The How-To News Writer

25 ways to develop reporting, writing and digital skills

by Michael Bugeja

Director, Greenlee School of Journalism & Communication,
Iowa State University

Buy a copy for each of your reporters!
Buy a copy for yourself!

This is the ultimate primer for reporters, a step-by-step guide on how to write news and how to write it well. This edition features new chapters on: How to produce content on demand, How to cover a beat, How to shoot digital photos, How to plan and create videography, How to blog and micro-blog and How to crowdsource.

Better still, remaining chapters on news writing, ethics and First Amendment rights are richer, updated and as concise as ever. You'll learn or renew interest in... how to edit, detect plagiarism, quote, write leads, execute features and cover events, meetings the Legislature and much, much more!

To order The How-To News Writer for your newsroom, complete the form below and mail or fax to the INF!

Please send _____ copies of The How-To News Writer at $18.99 each.

Name _____ Newspaper _____

Address _____ City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Payment options

Check enclosed Charge to Visa or Mastercard (complete area below)

Credit Card No. _____ Exp. Date ____/____ Charge Total $ _____

Address/ZIP where credit card billing is sent _____

Fax completed form to 1-866-593-7406 or mail to INF, 319 E. 5th St., Des Moines, IA 50309

Royalties from the sale of this book will be divided equally. Half of the royalties will go to the Iowa Newspaper Foundation to support its programming. Bugeja will donate his share of the royalties to a First Amendment Scholarship program for students at the Greenlee School.

